MICHAEL TOZZI'S THURSDAY NIGHT GROOVE SERIES – SPECIAL NIGHT FOCUSING ON YOUNG JAZZ ARTISTS

October 29 – Rocco Fiorentino and Angela Pagano

Philadelphia, PA (Oct. 21, 2009) – Michael Tozzi, host of ijazzglobal.com and the former program director and air personality of Smooth Jazz WJZ Philadelphia for more than 13 years, presents Groove Series at Warmdaddy's on Thursday nights. He's providing an opportunity for underexposed talent to perform each week from 6 to 7:30 p.m. to give them a platform for their music. On October 29, young artists will be featured. They are blind jazz singer and humanitarian Rocco Fiorentino and the extraordinarily talented vocal artist, Angela Pagano. Both 13 years of age, Tozzi knows that the crowds will love their talent.

Following these young singers is Jeff Bradshaw's Brass Heaven at 8 p.m.

Michael Tozzi's ijazzglobal.com presents jazz, smooth, standards and fusion basis through the Internet. Music is provided with limited interruption and listeners experience jazz from a much broader perspective, around the globe, taking them to places where the music comes alive.

Warmdaddy's is located at 1400 S Columbus Blvd. in Philadelphia. There is free admission with no cover, no cost for parking and a free buffet at the bar from 6 to 7:30 p.m. For more information, call (215) 462-2000.
